LANCASTER, KY., FRIDAY, MARCH 3 1905.

NUMBER 49

Items of Local Interest

Money for school teachers has arrived. Bring your reports and get pay.

The Christian Endeavor Society, of the Christian church, will give a social on the evening of March the 10th. Particulars later.

The Aid Society will have a bonnet sale Friday and Saturday, March 10th and 11th at the post office. Sun bonnets, baby bonnets, beauty bonnets, dust caps, etc.

We wouldn't trade places with the King of England this week. Our friend, Tom Wall, brought us a large jar of fresh maple molasses, and we have been "in clover" knee deep.

J. C. Thompson sold his ginseng roots at $7.65, a remarkably good price. He has a lot of plants and seeds which he will sell at reasonable prices. There is a lot of money in ginseng and it will pay someone to raise it.

J. S. Parks, who recently sold his farm, near Marcellus, to R. H. Rose of Owsley county, moved this week, to Harrodsburg, where he will reside. Mr. Parks is a good citizen, and we regret to lose him.

The Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian church will give an entertainment at the church, tomorrow (Friday) night, and the public is cordially invited to attend. The exercises will begin at 7:30 sharp.

This office is getting out a new telephone directory for the Bastin Co., so many new 'phones having been put in that the old card is almost useless. It will be in book form and contain a big lot of advertising matter.

Capt. Phil Price, who runs the day trains, is again crippled up with rheumatism and has gone to Hot Springs. Capt. Parker is running in his place. The latter has made many friends on the branch, who are always glad to see him.

The best attended meeting Camp M. D. Logan ever held was that on Monday, and was very enjoyable for the old Confederate Veterans. Mr. Joe H. Arnold was re-elected commander. R. R. Denton, adjutant, Wm. Hamilton secretary and C. G. Thompson chaplain.

RE McRoberts, license to sell liquor as a druggist for medical purposes expired last Monday and he declined to renew on account of worry caused by handling it. As everybody knows, Mr. McRoberts complied with the law in every particular, but he did not care to handle liquor and will keep none in his store.

For the 'Steenth Time.

For the 55th time, we wish to say that unsigned communications are given no attention in any printing office. All newspapers are pleased to have brief, well-written articles, but a long-winded, unsigned document stands about as much show as a snowball in the final home of the wicked. Sign your articles, that we may know from whence they came, and if we cannot print them, we want to exercise proper courtesy by answering your letter.

Elmore.

Mr. Jas. W. Elmore was called to Versailles last week by the death of his grand-mother, Mrs. Julia Ann Elmore, who died at the home of her son, Mr. S. D. Elmore, Tuesday night, Feb. 21st, aged 90. She was the widow of Thos. D. Elmore. Before marriage she was a Miss Coffman, and was born and reared in Jessamine county, and was a sister of the late S. D. Coffman, of Wilmore. She was one of a family of long-lived people. A sister, Mrs. Kitty Morrison, died Feb. 19, in Missouri, aged 84. Two other sisters survive her, Mrs. Tucker, of Mercer county, and Mrs. Susan McCrohan. Mrs. Elmore died in the house in which she had lived for fifty-two years. She had been a member of the Christian church for seventy-two years and was a woman of fine character.

Going South.

The Glasgow Times says that from one railroad alone 487 home-seeking passengers have been ticketed to a single Alabama county, and letters received in their former northern homes indicate that many of them are proposing to remain in the south. The immigration southward is largely due to the severity of the present winter. One blizzard has swept the train of another all over the north states during a period of nearly three months and nearly two more months of bad weather are feared in the north. Farming, and especially stock farming, in the regions of a climate such as that is discouraging, and many farmers at the extreme north and northwest are turning their eyes to the Gulf States—a land of fertile soil, mild climate and reasonable prices. With immigration and the building of the Panama canal, a new era of prosperity will again open up for the South—a section that was once the garden spot of the world and that will one day again assume the supremacy to which it is entitled by reason of its magnificent agricultural and commercial resources.

Farm Wanted.

Good place, containing about forty acres, with dwelling. Must be within few miles of Lancaster. For particulars call at this office.

Court Day.

A good many people came in Monday, but the weather was miserable and business was slow. There were about 200 head of cattle at Estes' pens, about half sold at from 31 to 34 cts. Mr. Estes says there was a demand for cattle, but the price was a little stiff.

A Good Record.

Danville Advocate:—The many friends of Mr. Henry G. Sandifer will be glad to learn that he is able to be out after being confined to his bed for four days with a severe case of grip. During his forty-four years connection with the Boyle Bank, this is the first time that he has been kept from his desk for four consecutive days by sickness.

A Stitch In Time.

The moving picture show, at court house Wednesday evening, was enjoyed by a large crowd. The whistling and cat-calling indulged in by some youngsters, was proof of lack of proper training in some homes. A boy can be a gentleman as well as those of mature age, and if the young idea is taught to shoot, the "aim" at that period is likely to be even better than when old age makes his nerves unsteady.

The Voice Of The Turtle.

Signs of warm weather have a good effect on our friend, Editor Walton, and he is now listening for "the voice of the turtle." He says in Tuesday's Journal: "A few more days like last Sunday and the beautiful voice of the turtle will be filling the land with melody, flowers will appear on the earth and the time of the singing of birds will come, for winter will be past and the rain over and gone."

A "Fitting" Opportunity.

An event that is looked forward to by the good dressers of Lancaster, is the visitation to the store of Joseph Mercantile Co., of the cutter and fitter from Schloss Bros. & Co., the well known Baltimore tailoring house. He will be here March 17th and 18th with patterns of the very latest Spring and Summer fabrics, and a fund of information that will be helpful to every good dresser. If you like to wear well fitting clothes "that cost no more than the ordinary," drop in and see the tempting array of stylish textures.

Appendicitis Killing Off Quail.

The number of quail in Central California has been greatly reduced by a disease which the local doctors say is similar to appendicitis in human beings. So many birds were found dead or ill it was at first thought that somebody was using poison, and arrests were even made on suspicion. But with the investigation developed the fact that quail were dying from the effect of eating too many grapes, the seeds lodging in the small intestines, closely resembling the vermin of human beings, and causing inflammation.

We Stole Clay's Thunder.

The editor of The Record has been doing a lot of laughing in his sleeve over the fact that the snake stories appearing in this paper have been credited to our good friend, Mr. H. Clay Sutton, whose ability as a writer is well known all over the state. Clay didn't like the idea a little bit, but we intended to keep a silent tongue and enjoy hearing the people "kid" him. However, Miss Mary Elizabeth Marks-bury, the splendid Marcellus correspondent to the Danville Advocate, lets the cat out of the bag in the following neat and highly-appreciated jolly: "In letter of last week Clay Sutton was credited as the author of the snake story that appeared in a recent issue of the Central Record at Lancaster, but it seems the guess was a wrong one. It is not generally known that Garrard county has developed another snake story teller, but Mr. Landram the versatile editor, has assumed that role and is giving to his readers some thrilling stories along that line. Mr. Sutton is giving his attention to crayon work, and both are throwing sunshine into many lives."

ONLY A FEW DAYS MORE.

Our Cincinnati Post Offer Will Be Withdrawn in a Few Days. Come Running.

Our low rates offered on the Cincinnati Post and Central Record brought in many orders, and the people appreciate our effort to get them a daily paper to give all the markets and general news of the day at a low price. Notwithstanding our statement that we must have the entire $2.25 in advance several wanted us to only receive that portion for the Post and let The Record's part wait. We can not and will not do that, as the price on both papers is cut almost in half. Send or bring us $2.25 and you will receive The Record and Post one year. The Post is printed every day at noon and gets into Lancaster at 8:26 that night. If you live in the country, you will have the Post early next morning.

Explanatory.

While we believe in protecting the home merchants against itinerant dealers, we feel that the imposition of a license, on the home merchant in order to keep the foreigner out, often works a hardship on both the consumer and the merchant, and if a license will keep the itinerant away, his business could not have been considerable. The home man is often a liberal taxpayer and it is certainly not equitable to put him on an equal footing with the traveling man. Yet Federal interference favors this when action is taken against the itinerant, but we are not compelled to take action if a hardship follows.

Again, the law permits a license on all occupations and it is certainly not equitable to select one occupation and place a license on it alone, thus discriminating against that occupation and ignoring the fixed rule of equality and uniformity in taxation.

There are many who concur with us in this opinion. Yet, if the courts adjudge the license of $50, on merchant tailoring, valid, we will pay it, for we want our share of the trade.

Death of Judge Sandifer.

After an illness of several months, Judge Sandifer died at the home of his son-in-law, Prof. H. K. Taylor, at Beechmont, near Louisville, Friday. He was in his eighty-seventh year and had been in failing health for some time. The funeral services were held in Danville Sunday, the interment taking place at the Danville cemetery. Judge Sandifer was well known to our older citizens, having resided in Lancaster many years ago. He held the office of county judge and was one of Garrard's most useful men. For many years he traveled for a wholesale house, and we have often heard him tell interesting experiences he had while "on the road." In his wagon, there being few railroads at that time, Judge Sandifer was as pure, as noble and as honorable Christian gentleman as Kentucky ever produced, and his many noble traits won for him a home in "that Temple not made by hands, eternal in the Heavens." He is survived by eleven children, four of whom were at his bedside when the end came. The children are as follows: Henry G. Sandifer, cashier of the Boyle National Bank; Charles Sandifer, of Georgetown; Jos. P. Sandifer, of Covington; George C. D. and Cash Sandifer, Mrs. H. K. Taylor and Mrs. Mar-naduke Bowden, of Louisville; Mrs. Marshall Hill, Mrs. Gabbert, of St. Joseph, Mo., and Mrs. Bates, of Denver, Col. A reunion of Judge Sandifer's children was held about five years ago, at which all of them were present.

The Danville Advocate says:—He was in his eighty-eighth year, and for the past eight years had been making his home with his daughter, near Louisville. The funeral services were conducted by Dr. E. H. Pearce and Ryan Commandery, Knights Templar, of which, at the time of his death, Judge Sandifer was the oldest member, and took place yesterday morning at 10:30 at the Centenary Methodist church, and the interment was made in Bellevue cemetery, Dr. J. M. Worrall officiating at the grave. Judge Sandifer was born March 18, 1818. He united with the Methodist church at Danville in 1840. In August, 1845, he married Miss Mary J. Greene, and to them were born eleven children, ten of whom survive, with twenty-three grand children. He was for twelve years Judge of the county court of Garrard, and declined to stand for re-election although earnestly importuned by friends to do so. He was a man of powerful physical constitution, never being ill for a single day during a period of twenty-seven years, while undergoing all the exposure of a commercial traveler, which occupation he followed until he was seventy-seven years of age. He never let anything interfere with his religious duties. He was a great reader, and especially of the Bible.

The old testament had been read through, according to marks on his bible, six times; the new testament 24 times, and five times in January, 1903, and one time between January 25th and January 29th. He was made a Mason in Morrison Lodge, Danville, in 1840, and was Past Master and Past High Priest. He was created a Knight Templar in Ryan Commandery November 17, 1890, in Danville. He was a man of stainless integrity; sympathetic to serve and help the needy, thoughtful and faithful to his obligations, ever devoted to the highest and best welfare of his family and the good of his fellowmen. Probably no man as a Christian in sixty years of fellowship in Boyle county held and served higher standards of duty and good will to those about him. His end was in great resignation, peace and triumph, his last words by notable coincidence being those of the late Bishop Phillips Brooks, of Boston—"I want to go home." Judge Sandifer was tenderly and lovingly revered by his family, and no man had more devoted and faithful friends in every walk of life. A noble life is ended, yet not ended here below, for in the influence of his life for righteousness, "being dead yet speaketh."

T. S. Elkin wants 100,000 pounds of wool, and will pay the highest cash price for same. He has a fine line of staple and fancy groceries and the best fresh meats in Central Kentucky. If

It would be an excellent idea if every orthodox church would organize a branch club of the "Don't Knock Society" for its members, says Ella Wheeler Wilcox. Here are some quotations from the club book:
We believe that each individual who conscientiously follows the doctrine of the Order of Don't Knock will be led to all other things which constitute a perfect life.

We believe that the practice of speaking ill of our fellow men, otherwise "knocking," is detestable, unbrotherly and uncharitable.

We believe it our duty to conceal the imperfections of our fellows (provided their actions are not of great menace to the welfare of community) and do all we can by precept and example to show them where they err.

We believe that many lives are ruined daily, that many hearts are made miserable, and many men and women driven to desperation by the despicable practice of "knocking."

We believe that many people judge others by their own standard and that because they are not tempted or are able to resist doing some particular thing they consider wrong, they feel themselves warranted in despising and criticizing those who are weaker than themselves or whose opinions differ with their own.

We believe that many people arrogate to themselves the fact that they are better than others. And we believe this to be foolishly egotistical, and that they should give credit to the proper source for any virtues they may possess.

Col Jack Chinn was introduced to President Roosevelt last week, and the papers say the two chatted and laughed for some time. Col Chinn told the President that he was a "Fry an Roosevelt Democrat," which statement amused Mr Roosevelt very much. Wonder if Col Chinn told him of the fine fox hunting here in Garrard? We venture to say he gave the name of every dog the Walker boys own.

Members of the Chicago Musicians Union who play in restaurants are demanding two dollars more a week on the ground that they will soon be called upon to play Wagnerian music. The proprietors had better save the two dollars, and at the same time have music consistent with restaurant food by sticking to "Bill Bailey," "Bedelia," and other little Sunday school songs.

The ball at Mr Roosevelt's inauguration will be the "swellest" ever given on similar occasions, and much is being printed as to preparations. The President will be there, but will not hit a lick. We will venture the assertion that he would much prefer to witness an old-fashioned, country hoe-down, and if the liddler was a good one, Mr. R. would shake his breeches through one "set," at least.

Major Carrington, of the U. S. army in the Philippines, has been sentenced to prison for sixty years and five days for falsifying vouchers. The five days will be about all the time the Major will serve, as he has a good strong "pull," and that will keep any man out of jail in these bustling times.

A Baltimore doctor says a man can do but little after he reaches the age of forty. As he hasn't as much sense as a fieldlark until he reaches the age of thirty-five, his days of usefulness are few, indeed, according to the Boston pill giver's way of figuring.

A man has been found in Mississippi who has no brains at all, an accident having robbed him of his corrugated matter. In appearance and action, the man is all right. He will doubtless be given a chair in some big college.

An Iowa girl went through college in boy's clothes, mistaken throughout the four years of her course as a shy, mild mannered youth. It goes without saying that she never joined any of the college fraternities.

A college president declares that freshmen know more than they formerly did. As a freshman knows more at his age than anyone else, old or young, his stock of knowledge must be unmeasurable.

Every few days some noted doctor comes to the front with a "discovery." The latest tomfoolery along this line is from an English physician who says that excessive drinking of water causes appendicitis.

"The price of a man," was the subject discussed by a Louisville preacher last week. In a hot election, along late in the day, we have seen them bring a pretty good figure.

A Philadelphia special says a Philadelphia girl is being entertained by an emperor. If she were a Kentucky girl, it would be the emperor who was being entertained.

A fashion paper says ball gowns are lower in the back this year than last. This being the case, a quarter of a yard of goods will make a ball dress.

The labor organizations should be particular to learn that Mrs Roosevelt's inauguration-ball gown is uniform-made.

Little Johnnie Has His Say.
Much has been written of late about the "Boy Problem." Little Johnnie sends his side of the case to the Shelby Sentinel in the following:

"Mr. Printerman—Dear Sir: see by your paper that some people have much to say about what is good for us boys. We boys are tired of it. We say let us alone and go after the girls they are worse than we. They are desepshus, my sister has eleven bos, and none of them know the other fellow is on the lot, she tells all of 'em they are the only ones she ever loved. my pa says they are all that way, but my ma says it don't make much difference what my pa says. then my pa he whistles and takes a walk. the grown people ain't all angles neither, they do as bad as read Bradys in a cave. they say don't smoke and some of 'em smoke and chew and worse than all beg their tobacco. I saw a show Tuesday night that was worse than smallpox and meo folks paid from 25c to $1.50 to see it. Aint that badder than readin' Bradys at 5 cents a Brady My ma says they give 'em Deadwood Dick plays cause the people can't understand anything better. Anyhow Mr. Printer give us boys a rest. My pa says people who live in glass houses shouldn't be pitchers in base ball clubs.

Startling Mortality.

Obituary.

In memory of little Allie May Clayton, who died at her home near Paint Lick, Oct. 8th, 1904, aged 7 years and 7 months.

Softly, peacefully,
We laid her to rest,
And placed the turf lightly
On her young breast;
Gently, solemnly,
We bend o'er the bed
Where we have pillowed,
Thus early her head.

Lonely, sorrowfully,
From the little grave
Where our loved one lay:
Lonely, sadly,
We went to the home
Where the dear little one
No more will roam.

We've laid the sod lightly,
O'er her young breast,
Calm be her slumbers,
Peaceful her rest.
Beautiful, lovely,
She was but given,
A fair bud on earth
To blossom in heaven.

Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "cut a fearful gash over his eye, so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye." Good for burns and ulcers, too. Cures Without Stomach Dosing.

Ilyomei Cures Catarrh by Simple Breathing. R. E. McRoberts. Reinolds' Money If It Fails to Cure.

A long stride toward solving the mystery of curing catarrh was taken with the discovery of Ilyomei. In fact the percentage of cures by this treatment proves it equal to the final tests.

The folly of taking medicine into the stomach to cure catarrh of the nose, throat and lungs, has been realized by physicians, but not until Ilyomei was known, had they a practical method that would obviate stomach dosing.

A complete Ilyomei outfit costs but $1, and consists of a neat pocket inhaler that can be used anywhere without attracting attention, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Ilyomei. Extra bottle of Ilyomei cost but 50c.

Breathing Ilyomei through the inhaler, every particle of air that enters the nose, throat and lungs, is charged with a healing balsam that soothes and allays all irritation, kills the catarrhal germs and enriches the blood with additional ozone.

R. E. McRoberts has so much faith in power of Ilyomei to cure catarrh, that he is selling it under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not give positive relief.

TAKE WINE

"For thy stomach's sake" was doubtless the prescription of apostolic times for "stomach trouble." Wine for eighteen hundred years past has been a favorite prescription for poor digestion among general practitioners. You need a little wine to warm up the stomach, or to stimulate the stomach, as the case may be, was the common form of the prescription. But nobody has yet said you need a little wine to cure stomach trouble. Wine won't do that. And yet that's the one need of the diseased stomach—no stimulation, but cure.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and thus restores lost flesh and lost strength through the assimilation of perfectly digested food.

"Nineteen years ago, I was taken sick with stomach trouble," writes Mr. James H. Melligan, of 822 E. Washington St., Syracuse, N. Y. "I commenced to treat with different physicians and in that length of time fifteen different physicians claimed I had liver complaint, others said Bright's disease, others said intestinal dyspepsia. I have had doctors tell me they could do no more for me. Have in the time mentioned tried any number of other medicines. I must acknowledge that I have not in all of this time received from any doctor or other medicines the benefit that I received from Dr. R. V. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It has done wonders for me, and I cannot speak too highly in its praise."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose, therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent FREE on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing ONLY. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Cured of Terrible Cough on Lungs.

Consumption Cured.

Foley & Co., Chicago, Dana, Ind. Gentlemen: Foley's Honey and Tar cured me of Consumption after I had suffered two years and was almost desperate. Three physicians failed to give me any relief and the last one said he could do me no good. I tried almost every medicine I heard tell of without benefit, until Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended to me. Its effect right from the start was magical. I improved steadily from the first dose and am now sound and well, and think Foley's Honey and Tar is a God-send to people with Throat and Lung Trouble. Yours very truly, MRS. MARY AMBROSE.
